Airports is responsible for the operation of 15 public airports in the Fiji Islands. These include two international airports: Nadi International Airport Fiji's main international gateway and Nausori Airport Fiji's domestic hub and 13 outer island airports. Fiji Airports also provides air traffic management (ATM) in the Nadi Flight Information Region (NFIR). This includes the airspace of Fiji, Tuvalu, New Caledonia, Kiribati and Vanuatu covering an area of six million square kilometres (6,000,000 km²). Fiji Airports is a fully owned Government Commercial Company (GCC) that was established in April 1999. It came into existence because of the re-organisation of the Civil Aviation Authority of Fiji (CAAF) into separate commercial and regulatory authorities under the Public Enterprise Act, 1996
